

Ready to Order Table

Directions:

1. Quote the claim (for rhetoric), state the main idea (for exposition) or summarize the theme (for literary selection) on the line below.
2. State criteria used for ranking/ordering (example: most interesting to least interesting—don't use this as your criteria though! Think about quality writing components.).
3. Specify your reason for using your criteria: Why do these criteria matter?
4. Fill in the middle column (Item Analysis and Support) with your analysis to fulfill the requirements including support
5. Rank the items based on you criteria (first column).
6. Justify why you ranked each item with specific reasons or explanations in the 3rd column.
